Values-Driven Leadership in Business and Society

Society is at a tipping point. The ever increasing complexity of life today is fostering a shift in consciousness to a more sustainable way of operating. Values are coming to the forefront of important conversations in both business and society.

Each day we see new examples of values-based leadership in action with global leaders letting go of their individual agendas to address collective global challenges and business leaders looking beyond solely shareholder return to have a positive impact on people and the planet. What they are finding is this values-led approach is more effective, more efficient and more profitable.

The 2016 CTT International Conference will bring leaders and practitioners together to collaborate and innovate, linking real world challenges to universal wisdom and emergent best practice.

The conference offers twin tracks for leaders and practitioners to support each group's unique contribution to the evolution of consciousness.

As leaders, the conference will support you with how to address the challenge of championing behaviour change through processes, policies, practices, and feedback.

As practitioners, the conference will equip you with the tools and resources to facilitate new conversations that lead to a more successful way of being for your clients.

We invite you to join us in Toronto and bring your network as well (colleagues and clients) to contribute to a thriving exchange around what's really necessary to foster values-based leadership in business and society.
